It is impossible however, to give you any but a very fair other generals and persons of note as implicated in the series of disreputable transactions with which the name of M. is mixed up, and as usual there is a whole The central figure in this extraodinary affair is Mme. Limousin, who was married for the second time about a year ago to a retired magistrate. The lady, who is a very plain woman of about 50, hump-backed and ame, is a Parisian by birth and education. Years ago she lived for some time at Vincenner, where her salon was the resort of officers of the garrison. General Thibaudeau, formerly Minister of War, was one of her intimate friends; and it is related that she gave him shelter after his escape from Germany. During the War she had the run of the War Office, knew Boulanger amongkothers, and Wilson, son-in-law of Grevy. Portraits of Gambetta, Jules Ferry, General Cafferel and the late Minister of War adorn her walls. In a conspicuous place in her drawing room figures th card of Boulanger, on which are inscribed the words. I shall expect you; dear madame, at 11 o'clock to morrow, and the card Races-To be ridden by Jockeys who of M. Wilson, who had written, 'Shall be

THE HUGUES HALLETT SCANDAL London. October 5 .- The following statemont was made to me this afternuon by an American, and a warm personal friend Mrs. Colonel Hughes Hallett in the days Majesty last year, it was only to he exwhen as Miss Vair Schumberg she was the be le of Philadelphia : The reports which have appeared in many papers to the effect that Mrs Hughes Hallett has left her husband, and is traveling on the continent preparatory to returning to America and securing a divorce, are totally without foundation: On the contrary; Mrs Hallott is residing with her husband at his residence on Cromwell road, and is standing stauchly by h.m. endeavoring to live down the scandal which by weakness in an unfortunate moment her husband has brought upon himself.... Those who are fully acquainted with the unfortunate circumstances of the case can only appland Mrs Hallott's conduct, though perhaps to those who have read all the horrible details of this most unsavory be effected. If by the Commus, it will be there was to have been a meeting between per spirit and feeling of self-respect which is so characteristic of American women.

Some two years ago Miss Selwyn appealed to Colonel Hallett to save her from the extertionate treatment of her own flesh and blood. It is innecessary to state the casion, arrangements agreed to and corried his spoke of it freely. This is said to have circumstances of this woney transaction. but as it came to her ears, Mrs Hallett, out of the kindness of her heart, offered sconer was she installed there than, in the most brazen-faced manner possible, she commonced to undermine Mrs Hallett's influence with her husband, and in a manner which became the talk of all visitors at the house, absolutely throwing herself in Colonel Hallett's way. Her behavior became an outrageous that Colonel Hughes Hallott himself was compelled to ask her to reside elsowhere.

When Colonel Hallett went to visit friends in the country, by a variety of ways Miss Selwyn succeeded in visiting the same houses at the same time. The statement that they met at the house of Henry Smith by appointment is false. The Colonel was stopping there and Miss Selwyn secured an invitation on the plea that she wished to obtain advice from him regarding the management of her fortune. The various statements that Captain Selwyn or Mrs Hughes Hallett or Henry Smith made known the scandal are one and all false. It was made public by Miss Selwyn herself, who desired to compel the Colonel to marry her. I wil not attempt to explain this young lady's conduct. Only those who, for the past two years, have observed the course of her selfish passion for Colonel Hughes Hallett can understand it.

This view of the affir I make public, not to obtain any pardon, or even pity, for the Colonel's conduct, or to make more heavy the burden of odium which the young lady already bears, but in the cause of truth and justice, and to explain Mrs Hallett's position to her countrymen and women, whose sympathy she would have.

London, October 7 .- As it now appears that his constituents do not wish his resignation, and that the members of he Carlton Club have pocketed their pers nal feelings for the good of the party, the House of Peers will not lose the presence of the honorable and gallant Colonel Hugher Hallett. Miss Selwyn, the unfortunate young lady in the case, will, at least in the eves of the world, prove to be the greatest loser by the expose. Considerable comment has been provoked by the fact that the Pall Mall Gazette in the first instance published letters which could not have come into its possession without the consent and permission of the Selwyn family. To silence the unfavorable criticism to which the consequent conclusions has given rise, Captain Selwyn informs the Morning Post Mall Gazette ans vers by stating fiatly that | will at heart, the Captain is in error.
